

PHOTO PERMISSION SLIP

The center and classrooms display pictures of the children in our center. It is a nice way for the children to develop self-awareness, self-actualization, and self-concept. It is also nice for the other children in the class to learn the faces of their new friends. Pictures are used as learning tools. These can be pictures brought in from home, or they may be ones taken here at the center. The director/assistant director and/or staff are permitted to take the children's pictures.

We also like to display family pictures. Each family is required to provide a family picture to display for our classroom family tree. Displaying pictures allows children to feel comforted with family pictures, discuss their unique family and our families to be a part of our learning environment. It is also a way for both our new friends and teachers to learn about each other's families.

Please check one:

- I give permission for the center to both take and display pictures of my child and our family.
- I give permission for the center to only display pictures that I bring in. They may not take any themselves.
- I do not give permission for the center to take or display pictures of my child or our family.
